CHILEAN JUNTA ORDERS SEIZURE OF FOREIGN FUNDS

New Socialistic Government Begins To Put Theories Into Practice in Move To Force Conversion to Pesos.

PROTEST ENTERED BY U. S. INTERESTS

National City Bank Refuses To Comply With Order and Considers Appeal to Washington.

BY JOHN VIDAL.

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 9.—(UP)—The new socialist government tonight issued a decree under which the state took over all foreign currency deposits in Chile.

Representatives of the National City Bank (New York) promptly notified the cabinet it would not comply with the decree. United States Ambassador William S. Culbertson also acted immediately, making representations to the government.

The government's action provided that all deposits of foreign money should be taken over by the state, which will give the depositors, in return, a similar amount in Chilean pesos at the last official exchange rate of June 3 which was 16.50 to the dollar.

The diplomatic corps met to consider the situation caused by the decree, and Culbertson informed the other ambassadors that he had sent a representation to the government.

It was known that the Argentine ambassador was watching the developments closely because of large Argentine interests in Chile.

The decree said it was the purpose of the new order was to halt the activities of persons who are converting deposits into foreign funds and thereby weakening the central bank (which was converted into the state bank today) by devaluing Chilean currency.

Money Ordered Transferred.

Both foreign and Chilean banks were ordered to send foreign money deposits to the government treasury, where they will be credited with like sums at the specified rate. The sums will be deposited in the national savings banks. The state bank will direct the transfer.

The new government's decision also caused a Standard Oil tanker two days ago to refuse to land its cargo, ending an agreement with the cabinet on transfer of money. The tanker was to have been landed under an agreement with the government, but the action of the new regime strictly affects the transfer of money out of Chile and halts the usual practice of foreign business firms in removing funds abroad.

All banks here, including branches of American, British and Canadian banks, opened for business as usual for a three-day holiday decreed by the government. There were no attempts to start runs, but payments by the banks were limited to a maximum of 3,000 pesos ($200 at par). No exchange rates were quoted on foreign currency, pending appointment of a new central commission. Withdrawals from savings accounts were limited to 10 per cent every 10 days. Funds required to pay salaries, comply with contractual obligations and taxes were exempted.

The central bank was founded in August, 1926, at the suggestion of a noted financial expert, Dr. E. W. Kemmerer, of Princeton University, who visited Chile at the time to help straighten out the republic's tangled fiscal affairs. It had the exclusive right to issue paper money and act as fiscal agent for the government, municipalities and state railways.

Trading Suspended.

Trading was suspended on the Stock exchange here in shares of the Vina del Mar Sugar Refinery Company for the government announced that it intended to take over the property. The growing popular support of Carlos G. Davila and other members

MISS FLORA RILEY.

Miss Flora Riley, 840 Capitol avenue, S. W., one of this year's Agnes Scott graduates, was selected by Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. Thursday as Georgia's sponsor to the rhododendron festival in Asheville, N. C., June 15-17.

Miss Riley, who was featured in the beauty section of this year's college annual, is a daughter of Mrs. J. P. Riley.

Miss Suzanne Fitch, of Asheville, and Stacy Smith, of Asheville, both prominent in the younger set in the city, have been named queen and king of the 1932 floral fete. Miss Fitch was crowned by the committee.

Celebrating the season when the rhododendron is at the height of its greatest floral beauty, Asheville invites annually, ten southern states to send their most charming and beautiful girls to take part in a three-day fete of parades, balls, pageants, etc.

The ten state sponsors are chosen from among students at leading universities and women's colleges, and are officially appointed by southern governors.

The other sponsors this year include: Miss Mary Mitchell, Montgomery, Ala.; Miss Nancy Lykes, Tampa, Fla.; Miss Ruth Dowling Wehle, Lexington, Ky.; Miss Carmen Memory, New Orleans, La.; Miss Elizabeth Critz, West Point, Miss.; Miss Charlotte Wilkinson, Rocky Mount, N. ## BONUS ARMY CAMP DECLARED MENACE TO SANITARY CONDITIONS

Leaders Present Petitions as Doctor Attacks Insanitary Conditions.

BY C. P. WILLIAMSON.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—While leaders presented petitions at the White House and Capitol urging immediate bonus payment, Dr. William C. Fowler, district of Columbia health officer, today pronounced the veteran army's living conditions "frightful."

A committee representing the former service men called at the White House and placed their communication to the president in the hands of one of his secretaries.

Earlier it had delivered the petition to Vice President Curtis and, finding Speaker Garner busy presiding over the house, left a copy at his office. The message was read to the senate and incorporated in the Congressional Record at the request of Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma.

Later it was read to the house. Dr. Fowler said the open air encampment at Anacostia Flats was the worst menace to the city's health since he took office.

Meanwhile, the district commissioners sent telegrams to governors of all the states urging them to do whatever they can to keep their veterans at home.

Local police, co-operating with government agencies involved, made plans to send detachments of the veterans to obsolete army posts in the vicinity of the capital to reduce the congestion at Anacostia.

At the main camp a village had sprung up where a week ago there was a vacant field. Crude huts, their roofs thatched with dried grass, straw or tree branches, supplemented the shacks erected as temporary shelter for a few hundreds.

Odors of burning wood from the field kitchens, stale odors, half-buried garbage and hastily constructed sanitary stations hung in the air. The marine medical department reported numbers suffering with colic, dysentery and other ailments.

The police hoped for rain to discourage the veterans and set them on their way home. The medical officers

CONGRESS DRIVES 'STOP-ROOSEVELT' FOR EARLY ACTION MOVEMENT DEAD, ON TWO PROBLEMS FARLEY ASSERTS

Both Branches Bend to Task of Reaching Agreement on Economy and Relief Measures.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—The vital economy, relief and supply bills today absorbed both house and senate in a drive for quick enactment of this important legislation and early adjournment.

The badly riddled economy bill was sent to conference for adjustment of differences between the two branches as they accelerated work on the long delayed appropriation measures.

Senate democrats served notice they would demand action on their bill to lend $300,000,000 to the states through the Reconstruction Corporation for relief of the unemployed. The Hoover home loan discount legislation will be considered tomorrow in the house with a view to final action Saturday.

The senate banking committee substituted the house home loan bill today for the measure introduced by Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, and prepared to take final action next Monday.

Privileged Status.

Privileged legislative status in the house was given the Fulmer bill to turn over to the Red Cross 40,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat and 500,000 bales of cotton to feed and clothe the hungry.

Meanwhile, the senate agriculture committee approved the McNary measure to use 50,000,000 bushels for the same purpose. Early action on these was forecast by party leaders in both branches.

With the senate struggling hard to dispose of the big supply bills to pave the way for adjournment probably next week, the house considered the last of the money legislation, the $15,000,000 de-fence bill.

One stumbling block looming over the economy measure is whether the house will accept the fulcrum plan proposed by the senate, which would straight federal salary cut. It was rejected by the house, which approved a flat 11 per cent salary slash with a chairman's exemption.

Chairman Jones of the senate appropriations committee said the conferees would set to work tomorrow with the hope that an agreement may be reached before the week-end.

Resumes Labors.

The senate resumed its labors on the appropriation bills after several months' delay pending action on the significant revenue and controversial economy measures. It tackled the $380,000,000 war department money measure first, and soon rejected a motion to cut the appropriation bill 10 per cent below the $392,000,000 it carried as passed by the house.

The motion, by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, was beaten, 41 to 22.

The senate's decision marked a reversal of its policy of cutting appropriations bills 10 per cent below the house levels.

Only three of the ten major supply bills were considered today.

Congressman's Wife Accused of Drinking

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Bertha Huddleston, wife of Congressman Huddleston, of Alabama, was arrested here yesterday on charges of driving while intoxicated and released on $500 bond.

Penn said she was driving with Mark M. Penn, a salesman of Washington, and that their automobile crashed into a parked automobile in the residential section.

Penn was held on a charge of intoxication.

Congressman Huddleston conferred with police before his wife's release on bond.

The case of Mrs. Huddleston was continued until next Tuesday when she will appear in police court for arraignment. Penn's case also was continued.

War Debts Can't Be Cancelled Calvin Coolidge Declares

NEW YORK, June 9.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge, discussing the international war debts in the July issue of the International-Cosmopolitan magazine, declares that these obligations "cannot be cancelled."

"I know we were not trying to overreach anybody nor trying to drive a hard bargain. The money we furnished was to be repaid. Someone must pay it. It cannot be cancelled. If we do not collect it from Europe, we must collect it from our own taxpayers."

Mr. Coolidge states that, at the time the settlements were made, "we were seeking to restore faith in international financial integrity for the good of the world."

While calling attention to the various loans made Europe by the United States, the writer says:

"But we get little help from specific figures or reasons for making the loans. In the main we furnished money to carry on the war. Others borrowed it for that general purpose. After the armistice we furnished more money for food, supplies and reconstruction."

"Years after we settled the bill of $11,565,000,000 on a present worth basis at 5 per cent interest for $5,888,000,000. We thought that was within

Bandit Wounds 2 in Holdup; Captured After Long Chase

Brilliant detective work by an Atlanta lawyer Thursday morning caused the capture of a youthful gunman who had shot and probably fatally wounded two men in a downtown cafe holdup.

The capture of the bandit occurred more than an hour after police had arrested the wrong man, a North Carolina college student whom they found asleep in a hotel through which the real gunman had made his escape.

Lat Thursday afternoon the victims of the bandit were reported as having little chance to recover at Grady hospital, where they were taken. They are W. D. Hamilton, 32, of 1009 Euclid avenue, night manager of the Hartman cafe, at 105 Luckie street, where the holdup and shootings occurred, and G. C. Moon, 44, of 404 Fourteenth street, N. W., salesman for a sausage company.

Wallace Hughes, alias W. D. Knight, 18, of Atlanta and West Palm Beach, was being held without bond pending outcome of the wounded men's condition. Detectives made public a confession which they alleged Hughes had signed.

The "wrong man," J. T. Harris Jr., 21, of Farmville, N. C., was still being detained by police late Thursday afternoon, although no charge had been booked against him after the police were made aware of their mistake in his identity. Joe Hill Smith, the attorney whose persistent efforts

ROOSEVELT BEGINS STUDY OF REPORT DUE FOR NEW CUT

Perusal of Seabury Record To Take From Two to Three Weeks.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 9.—(AP)—Governor Roosevelt tonight began a two to three-week task of reading the Hofstadter investigation record upon which Samuel Seabury bases his arguments for the removal of James J. Walker, Tammany mayor of New York city.

In the light of Mr. Roosevelt's remark today—"It is of course necessary to read the testimony with the allegations"—it is probable that the democratic national convention will be in session at Chicago before the governor completes a scrutiny of the 600,000 words of testimony.

And, if he follows the procedure of other ousted proceedings, Roosevelt will be the presidential nominee or will have been rejected by the delegates long before Walker faces Seabury at a public hearing at the capitol.

Roosevelt said he would ask two outstanding lawyers to read the testimony and charges and give him their opinions.

At the governor began turning the pages of the first of the eight volumes of questions and answers which Seabury, counsel for the legislative investigations, laid before Roosevelt.

Party Leaders at Chicago Confidently Predict Resubmission Plank for Republican Platform.

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER.

CHICAGO, June 9.—(AP)—In an atmosphere vibrant with demands for prohibition repeal or resubmission, republican chairmen gathered in force today to clear up a mass of minor details for the national convention beginning next Tuesday.

Hotel lobbies were jammed with national committee members and delegates openly expressing opinions that the republican platform would be wet; dry organization leaders arrived but kept their plans secret; delegate contests were put off until tomorrow, and the name of James F. Garfield, of Ohio, chairman-designate of the convention resolutions committee, was the latest passed around as the probable new chairman of the national committee.

A White House denial that President Hoover had committed himself to any specific prohibition plank was echoed by Chairman Fess, of the national committee here. Republican leaders in the national capital insisted, however, the president had indicated acceptance of the resubmission principle.

Add Recruits.

Elsewhere, the anti-prohibitionists continued to add recruits to their cause, although sharp disagreement arose in both republican and democratic camps as to how a change should be brought about.

William C. Macfarlane, suggestion for a national advisory referendum to determine the sentiment of the people was termed illegal by former Governor Harry E. Byrd, of Virginia, who today received the endorsement of his state's delegation for the democratic presidential nomination.

Byrd's own plan for new constitutional amendment to permit a direct popular vote on prohibition was endorsed by Governor John G. Pollard in a keynote address to the Virginia democratic state convention.

In the dry stronghold of Indiana, republicans in state convention approved a proposal for resubmission of prohibition and repeal of the state enforcement act.

Indiana's action was matched in the democratic party by the Virginia convention's adoption of a resubmission resolution.

An assertion that former President Coolidge would condemn prohibition in the Cosmopolitan Magazine, made

Feminine Pajamas in Army Stores Center of Hearing by House Group

BY EDWARD W. LEWIS.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—(UP)—A pair of pretty pink feminine pajamas, waved before blushing members of the house a few days ago, opened a drive against government competition with private business which broke into full swing today.

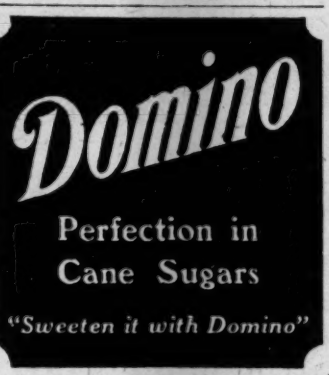

The dainty garment, Representative Joseph B. Shannon, democrat, Missouri, exclaimed as he placed it carelessly before him, was purchased at the army post at Fort Leavenworth, Kans. He listed other articles which could be purchased more cheaply at army quarters than in private shops.

Today a special committee of the house began hearings into Shannon's charges. They are expected to show an especial interest in the sale of English-made shoes, clothing, cordials and other articles. The cordials were of rum, gin, Scotch and rye and labeled "sufficient to flavor one gallon."

Sponsors of the drive led by Shannon also today began prying into the second deficiency bill being considered now by the house, and prevented an estimated $700,000 appropriation for cafeterias in 14 new postoffice buildings. The chair sustained Shannon's claims that such items had no place in the measure.

Shannon said government experts estimated the cafeterias would have cost $50,000 each. They would have been installed in structures at Atlanta, Boston, Cincinnati, Fort Worth, Texas; Nashville, Tenn.; Newark, N. J.; New York, Norfolk, Va.; Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Rochester, N. Y.; St. Paul, San Francisco, Tulsa, Okla.

LEVY SAVING PLAN OFFERED BY WHITE

Councilman Would Cut Assessments, Hike Rate; Barrett Hits Slashes.

As Councilman Ellis B. Barrett Thursday leveled a stinging fire at the June finance sheet because it provides that school teachers as all other city employees are to take a 15-day payless vacation, Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward, announced he will offer to council this afternoon a proposal to save Atlantans at least 25 per cent in state and county taxes.

Councilman James L. Wells, chairman of the finance committee, rushed to the defense of the June fiscal sheet, which he will offer to council this afternoon, and called council to permit prompt passage. The sheet is balanced, having been culled of more than $300,000 which was anticipated in the January budget, but which failed to materialize because of shrinkages in collections.

White's plan will be to submit to voters in the general election a provision to increase the tax rate of the city from 15 mills on the $1 to 20 mills, and reduce assessments 25 per cent. This would give the city the same income it will get this year, but as Fulton county accepts Atlanta's taxes for 70 per cent of the assessments made by the city, it would cut state and county taxes for Atlantans about 26 per cent, White holds.

"Something must be done to protect the people of Atlanta, who are tax-ridden and who are unable to meet the high costs of government," White said. The plan to establish the city and county of Atlanta, which is now in council, is a good one, but will entail a constitutional amendment. This is a slow and tedious process, even if successful, and would not afford immediate relief. I feel that the tax raise with the corresponding cut in assessments, which would be provided in my measure, effective at the same time, and thereafter, that the tax hike is made would give immediate relief.

The finance sheet is to be offered to council this afternoon at an adjourned session of council for that purpose. The council is to convene at 2 o'clock.

It allocates a total of $11,422,372.27 from current receipts, and $4,338,070.22 from non-revenue receipts, composed of bond funds and other items carried on both the receipt and disbursement side of the city's ledger, forcing the grand total to $15,960,442.49.

Barrett objected to the provision of the sheet calling for deduction of $104,000 from the school department allocations, a sum equivalent to the amount which would be saved if employees of the school department were forced to take the 15-day payless vacation which the committee recommends for all divisions of the government.

Among other outstanding provisions of the budget are a five-day-a-week work plan for laborers and a number of personnel and salary reductions, characterized by Wells as drastic and severe measures forced on the committee to submit a balanced budget. "I hope every member of council will scrutinize the revised budget carefully," Councilman Wells said Thursday. "If the members note the absolute impartiality with which we have handled the appropriations for all departments, they will see the necessity and justice of passing the sheet without amendment."

"The great problem before the committee was how to make a drastic curtailment which we could not foresee in January. This was made necessary by the shrinkage of revenue and the necessity of additional funds to relieve the unemployed. These items together made it necessary to save about $300,000 to keep our budget in balance."

"The committee dealt impartially with every department and with every employee," he said. "As far as possible, we left the curtailment of personnel to department managers, so long as they kept within the total appropriation which we could make."

"In not one instance was it the attitude of the committee to punish any person for a political opinion or for his attitude on the recall. No one was laid off or subjected to a salary cut because he favored the recall of Mayor Key."

"These reductions were a matter of necessity over which we had no control. City employees should realize that even after these cuts their salaries are far in advance of those paid by private corporations for similar work."

Upholding his appropriations committee, the senate rejected a provision limiting to 10,000 the number of army officers, and agreed there should be 12,000, as now.

Reversing its attitude toward other appropriation bills, it turned down, 47 to 22, an attempt by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, to send it back to the committee with orders to cut it 10 per cent from the $392,000, 000 it carried as it came from the house.

McKellar, urging this step, contended it had been slashed only $3,000, 000 from the house figures and that greater economies should be made because preceding bills were decreased larger amounts.

NEW REBEL ATTACKS REPORTED IN HONDURAS

GUATEMALA CITY, June 9.—(AP)—A fresh revolutionary outbreak in Honduras, where a bitter political campaign is being fought although the elections are five months away, was reported in dispatches reaching Guatemala City today.

Rebel troops under command of Filiberto Diaz Zelaya, leader of the nationalist party, attacked federal forces in the department of Copan, the dispatches said.

The government troops retreated and massed for a concentrated drive to retake the territory, near the place where more than three score were slain Tuesday in a battle between rebels and federal forces under General Justo Umaná.

TRIAL OF MEANS CENTERS ON NOTE

Witness Says Negotiator
Was To Receive Boy Before Payment.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—A few scribbled words under which Mrs. Edward B. McLean wrote her name in her South Carolina cottage last March became the focal point today in the trial of Gaston B. Means on charges of defrauding the society woman of $104,000 given to him to recover the kidnapped and murdered Lindbergh baby.

The note on which Mrs. McLean, estranged wife of the Washington Post publisher, identified her signature in the District of Columbia supreme court read:

"For Gaston B. Means, this is your authorization to turn over to Neil Williams the $100,000 in your custody, 3-23-32. (Signed) Evelyn McLean."

Witnesses were presented by the prosecution in an effort to show that Means, a former department of justice agent, received the money from Mrs. McLean on promises to recover the Lindbergh child even if he had to "kidnap the baby from the kidnappers" as one of them expressed it.

Testimony also was received that after Mrs. McLean realized the baby was not returned and demanded her money Means produced only a story that he gave it to a mysterious "Number Eleven" although he had already returned it only to the Rev. Francis Hurney, a Catholic priest of Washington.

Father Hurney testified that as late as last April 17 Means told him and Mrs. McLean that he (Means) had the $100,000 in North Carolina and "had no intention of giving it up until the baby was returned." The baby was kidnapped March 1.

Miss Elizabeth Nelson, a Baltimore nurse, said she went to the Mexican border in quest of the baby, adding that it was always Mrs. McLean's understanding that the money would be turned over to the kidnappers only after the baby was returned and identified.

Cross-examination disclosed that the defense will contend Means carried on a straight business transaction, executing agreements as far as possible.

Tardieu Forms Bloc To Fight Herriot

PARIS, June 9.—(AP)—Former Premier Andre Tardieu and 30 of his followers today formed a new party to fight the policies of Premier Edouard Herriot, the liberal (radical socialist) leader.

The organization will be known as the "center republican"—Tardieu heretofore has been a left republican—and was regarded as particularly interested in foreign affairs.

The group officially announced itself for "social, commercial and agricultural action."

Among the more important members are Paul Reynaud, Louis Rollin, Maurice Petsche, Jean Fabry and Desire Ferry.

The cabinet met today to map out the disarmament and reparations discussions when Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald arrives from England Saturday.

HUGE NEW BOND ISSUE ANNOUNCED BY SOVIET

MOSCOW, June 9.—(AP)—The executive committee of the communist party and the council of the people's commissars announced today the issuance of a new state loan of 2,000,000,000 rubles (about $1,600,000,000) to finance the "fourth and final year of the five-year plan."

The loan matures in 10 years. It will increase the internal indebtedness of the soviet government to about 9,750,000,000 rubles.

It is the third in the series devoted to the five-year plan and follows out the government's fiscal policy of relying on large bond issues instead of printing new currency to finance the industrial development, thereby contributing to the stabilization of the ruble which, however, is still unrecognized internationally.

NOVELIST IS GRANTED NEW MURDER TRIAL

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 9.—(AP)—Tom Roan, Alabama novelist, was granted a new trial today by the Alabama supreme court, which reversed the judgment of the DeKalb circuit court sentencing him to life imprisonment for the slaying of Dr. W. P. Hicks in April, 1931, at the novelist's mountain Lookout mountain.

The supreme court ruled that Roan's motion for a new trial should have been granted by the lower court because of a statement during the trial from S. M. Lovvorn, a bystander, to Paul George, a juror, to "stay in there, Paul, and pour it to him."

Dr. Hicks was killed in Roan's bedroom after an argument arose during the course of a midnight party. Roan claimed self-defense, and testified the physician attacked him with a knife.

Lepers Threaten March On City in Food Protest

VIENNA, June 9.—(AP)—Dispatches from Bucharest today said 130 lepers in a colony at Tichilesti had threatened to march on Bucharest unless they received better food.

The situation was said to have arisen because grocers and farmers with long overdue bills against the government have declined to deliver the normal quantity of supplies to the leper colony.

SPORTSMAN ENDS LIFE AFTER THIRD WEDDING

CHICAGO, June 9.—(AP)—Royal C. Vilas, manufacturer and sportsman, shot himself fatally today at his Glenview home.

Only 16 days ago he was married a third time, the bride being Miss Myrtle E. Hoglund, his secretary. He gave his age then as 52. She is 27. Vilas headed the Pyle National Company, makers of automobile headlights. His father, the first Royal C. Vilas, was head of the New York Air Brake Company and left a fortune to Royal and his brother, Ward A. Vilas, who died in 1920 after taking an overdose of a drug.

His first wife, the former Mary Armstrong, of Baltimore, divorced him in 1921, winning $20,000 a year alimony and custody of their two children, Royal III and Virginia, the golfer. The first Mrs. Vilas took her own life in 1928 by hanging.

Shortly after the first divorce Vilas married Mrs. Edna Vance, of Houston, Texas, from whom he was divorced in Pinellas county, Florida, recently.

U. S. IMPORT DUTIES NOT PERSONAL TAXES

In Thursday Constitution's digest of the $1,000,000,000 revenue tax bill passed by congress to balance the federal budget, a few items subject to tariff duty were included as part of the bill. This inclusion led some readers to think that the import duty was a personal tax.

Coal was one of the items listed. The tariff import duty on coal is 10 cents a hundred pounds, or $2 a ton. There were import tariffs also on oil, lumber and copper.

These commodities are subject to import duty only, and are not taxed for production and consumption inside the United States—in other words this is not a personal tax.

DR. SEVERIN DENIES CHARGE OF STEWART

Coffee Representative's Statement on Serum Bill Is Challenged.

Georgia veterinarians did not attempt to influence legislative action on a free hog serum bill sponsored at the last session of the general assembly by Representative Charles E. Stewart of Coffee county, an statement by Dr. J. E. Severin, secretary of the state society, issued Thursday, said, Stewart had charged that the bill failed of passage because of opposition from the veterinarians.

Dr. Severin's statement said: "Under a caption 'Talmadge Defended on Hog Cholera Charge' the Monday Constitution printed a statement by Charles Stewart, a member of the general assembly from Coffee county, in which he says in part: 'I have been in the legislature many years and in all my experience I have never seen a bill fought as hard as this bill was by veterinary parasites and their paid lobbyist, both in and out of the legislature.'"

"The bill Mr. Stewart refers to is house bill No. 17, the session of 1931, introduced by Mr. Stewart. After being assigned to agricultural committee No. 1 for consideration, at Mr. Stewart's request, the bill was referred to general agricultural committee No. 2, of which Mr. Rabun, of Jefferson county, was chairman, and Mr. Stewart a member.

"When, after many delays by Mr. Stewart, the bill finally came up for a hearing, Mr. Stewart pleaded for further postponement, but because several out-of-town folks, mostly county agents, were anxious to be heard the committee gave a hearing on this bill.

"Neither at this time nor for any other hearing of house bill No. 17, the free hog cholera serum bill, did any veterinarian appear before this committee, or, as far as I know, attempt to influence the action of this committee on this bill. The veterinarians were interested in and appeared in large numbers before agricultural committee No. 2, at a later date, in favor of house bill No. 476, introduced by Mr. Tippias, of Evans county. This bill had no reference to free hog cholera serum.

"Not knowing Mr. Stewart I am astonished that he would deliberately misrepresent and vilify the veterinarians.

"I am informed that Mr. Stewart wrote this article for Mr. Talmadge because Mr. Talmadge is carrying Mr. Stewart's son, Charles, on his pay roll as a laboratory helper at $125 per month while he is attending law school in Atlanta. I don't know of any veterinarian who is objecting to this arrangement, but if in an attempt to pay a political obligation to Mr. Talmadge, Mr. Stewart feels called on to discuss any matter pertaining to the veterinary profession, we want him to tell the truth."

Grand Jury Suspends Probe of 'Tampering'

Investigation of alleged tampering with records in the court of City Recorder John L. Cone was suspended temporarily Thursday afternoon to be resumed Monday or Tuesday of next week, it was learned in the office of the solicitor-general.

About 25 witnesses were summoned before the grand jury Wednesday and a similar number Thursday when the list included all of the station lieutenants and their assistants, the recorder's clerks, and one beat lieutenant. It was indicated that the investigation was taking on a wider scope than at first anticipated.

THREE MEALS A DAY

KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES
by Sally Saver

A CHINESE MENU FOR HOT EVENINGS.

The first hot days of the early summer are the hardest of all the season to stand, because of the humidity following so close upon the heels of the spring rains. Appetites lag, hot kitchens bore and food fails to interest the housewife. Yet the family must eat, and guests will drop in!

One of the nicest repasts for such evenings is a Chinese meal. The proportion of meat to the rest of the recipe is small, and the vegetables help toward keeping the body temperature down. The only suggestion to be made is to reduce the amount of onions usually called for, and substitute more celery or bean sprouts for them. Onions are more heating than cooling, while celery and bean sprouts both are the opposite.

Another thing about Chinese recipes is the absence of fat, which is also very heating in hot weather, more so than sugars and starches. The following menu, and recipes, too, will be found quite helpful.

CHINESE DINNER MENU.

Bird's Nest Soup
Chop Suey
Chinese Rice
Chinese Tea

Egg Pou Yung
Chinese Tea

Bird's Nest Soup.

Two tablespoons gelatin, 4 cups skimmed chicken broth, 1 slightly beaten egg, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1-2 cup fine noodles, salt and pepper. Soften gelatin in 1-4 cup cold water, dissolve in the hot broth. Place in double boiler, add noodles and seasonings and cook till noodles are done. Add beaten egg and lemon juice just before serving.

Chop Suey.
One pound raw chicken, pork or veal; 1-2 cups celery, cut in 2-inch strips; 1-4 onion, sliced; 6 sliced mushrooms, 6 water chestnuts, 3-4 pound bean sprouts, 1-4 pound bamboo shoots, 1 teaspoon soy sauce, 2 cups chicken or meat stock made from a bouillon cube.

Cut meat and vegetables in long, thin strips. Brown in small amount hot fat. Add seasonings and chicken or meat stock, cover closely and simmer until meat is tender. Add the canned vegetables just about 10 minutes before serving. Do not oversalt, but serve with soy sauce. Some people use the head molasses to brown the mixture, but this is optional.

Egg Pou Yung.
Ten eggs, 1-4 cup shredded onions, 1-2 cup water chestnuts, 1-2 cups bean sprouts, 1-2 cup finely chopped bacon.

Beat the eggs with other ingredients until thick. Divide into 6 portions, mold into individual portions. Fry the portions in hot fat or oil, using only a small amount. When one side is browned, brown the other. Serve with gravy made in the pan by addition of little water, or with soy sauce.

Chinese Noodle Flowers.

Beat 1 egg with 1-2 teaspoon salt and work into it as much flour as it will take up, usually about 3-4 cup. Knead smooth, chill. Roll out on floured board to paper thinness. Cut into flower shapes with cutters and press three pieces together in center. Throw napkin over dough and let stand 15 minutes in cool place. Fry in deep fat, 375 degrees, from 3 to 5 minutes, until flowers are brown. Drain on brown paper.

Chinese Rice.

One cup raw rice, 1-1-4 cups cold water.

Wash rice thoroughly in cold water many times, until the water comes clear. Drain, place rice in kettle with cold water to reach about one-third inch above the level of the rice. Place over hot fire, let come quickly to the boiling point, cover tightly and reduce heat, let cook slowly about 20 to 30 minutes, or until the kernels are tender. Add salt. Place rice in colander or strainer and rinse with cold water. Place in oven to dry out. The rice may be rinsed with hot water, if preferred, and drained well instead of drying it out in the oven.

Rice Wafers.
One-fourth cup butter, 1-2 cup powdered sugar, 2 tablespoons water, 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1-3 cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon flavoring, 1-2 cup rice flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter, add sugar, then the beaten eggs. Next add water and flavoring and lastly the dry ingredients which have been sifted together several times. Roll out on a cookie sheet as thin as possible.

Cut in squares and bake in moderate oven until delicately browned.

To give local color to the dinner, Chinese lanterns and Chinese kimonoed waitresses may be employed. Or the guests might be asked to come in Chinese attire. There are many ideas along these lines which will come to the minds of enterprising hostesses, ever on the alert for something different in the way of parties, dinners or other entertainings.

A DOZEN AND ONE WAYS TO EAT MORE FRUIT.

If you would lay the foundation for perfect health, see that plenty of fresh fruits are included in your diet. Fruits are known as "protective" foods, since their primary function, like that of the Chinese doctor, is to guard against disease and keep people well. In the absence of elements which fruits supply so abundantly, the body's resistance becomes weakened, and there is increased opportunity for disease to gain a foothold.

Fortunately, some fruits are available all the year round; among the most popular are bananas and oranges, delightful in their natural state and lending themselves to a wide variety of dishes. These two fruits seem to have a natural affinity for each other. When served in combination, they supply energy for operating the body machinery and liberal quantities of essential vitamins and mineral salts. Their sugars are in a most digestible form, being so easily assimilated that even babies can handle them. In addition, their reaction in the body is alkalizing, which serves to counteract the acid condition produced by meats and many other foods common to the daily diet.

Here are some recipes which utilize bananas and oranges together in new and different ways for beverages, main dishes, salads and desserts. They are quickly and easily made from ingredients usually on hand and provide a simple way to supply elements vital to the family's health.

BEVERAGES.

Banana-Orange Juice Cocktail
Four bananas, 1-2 cups orange juice.

Slice or dice bananas into sherbet glasses or sauce dishes, and cover with orange juice. Serve as breakfast food or appetizer. Six portions.

Fruit Milk Shake.
One-half cup banana pulp, 1-2 cup orange juice, 1-4 cup milk, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1 cup milk.

Mash bananas, add fruit juices and mix well. Chill, add milk, beat thoroughly. Makes about six servings in punch cups or small glasses.

Fruit Punch.

One cup orange juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-2 cup grapefruit juice, 2 cups water, 5 tablespoons sugar or honey, 1 cup mashed banana.

Blend ingredients thoroughly. Chill if desired. Serve in glasses or goblets with a half orange slice for garnish. Four to six portions.

MEAT DISHES AND MEAT ACCOMPANIMENTS.

Six bananas, 1-2 cup orange juice, 2 tablespoons brown sugar.

Bake bananas in skins about 15 minutes in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit). Split skin carefully down one side; remove pulp; mash, add orange juice and sugar. Return to skin. Serve at once while warm. Six portions.

Baked Bananas With Orange Sauce.
Six bananas, 2 oranges, dash of lemon juice, butter.

Peel bananas, and put into greased baking dish. Over them pour juice of oranges and dash of lemon juice. Dot with butter and sprinkle with grated rind of 1 orange. Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit). Serve hot. Six portions.

Sautéed Bananas and Orange Garnish.
To sauté bananas: Peel, sprinkle with lemon juice and roll in flour. Brown well on both sides, using small amount of fat in hot frying pan. Cut unpeeled oranges crosswise into quarter-inch slices, and center each slice with current jelly. Alternate the sautéed bananas and orange slices around platter on which meat is served.

SALADS.

Jellied Fruit Salad.
One package flavored lemon gelatin, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup orange sections, 2 sliced bananas.

Dissolve lemon or lime-flavored gelatin in boiling water. Add orange juice, vinegar and salt. Chill. When slightly thickened add oranges and bananas. Turn into individual molds. Chill in refrigerator until set. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Six servings.

Fruit Salad in Orange Cups.
Six large oranges, 1-2 cup cut celery, 1-2 cup cut grapefruit, 1-2 cup banana slices, mayonnaise, lettuce.

Cut tops off oranges with sharp knife and remove pulp carefully, leaving orange cups. Flute edges if desired. Remove fibre from orange pulp. Combine with celery, grapefruit and bananas. Moisten with mayonnaise and refold orange cups. Garnish with mayonnaise, sprinkle with paprika and serve on lettuce leaves. Serves six.

Note: To keep sliced bananas from turning dark, cover with any canned or fresh fruit juice, or sprinkle with lemon juice. Use a silver or stainless steel knife for slicing.

DESSERTS.

Ambrosia.
Two bananas, 1 orange, 2 pineapple rings, 1 cup seedless grapes, 2 tablespoons coconut.

Peel and slice bananas and orange. Dice pineapple. Mix all fruit with coconut, add sugar if desired, and chill thoroughly before serving. Serves six.

Fruit Sherbet.
One-fourth cup orange juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-1-4 cups sugar, 2 cups milk, 1 cup mashed banana.

Mix in order given and stir until sugar is dissolved. Turn into container or freezer and freeze in ice and salt, using 4 parts ice to 1 part salt. The mixture may also be frozen in the tray of an automatic refrigerator. Serves six.

Banana Mousse.
Three-fourths cup orange juice, 1 cup condensed milk, 1-2 cups diced banana, 1 cup cream, whipped.

Mix orange juice thoroughly with milk. Add diced banana. Fold in whipped cream. Freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator, or pack in ice and salt for 3-4 hours. Serves six.

Banana-Orange Tapioca.
One and one-half cups milk, 1-2 cup minute tapioca, salt, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup sugar, 3 bananas, 1-2 cup orange juice.

Scald milk in double boiler, add tapioca and salt. Cook 15 minutes until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Beat egg yolks, add sugar and stir into tapioca mixture. Cook over hot water 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool slightly. Chop bananas into orange juice, and add to tapioca mixture. Chill. Garnish with banana and orange slices. Serves six.

Banana-Orange Junket.
Three cups milk, 1-2 teaspoons vanilla, 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, 1-2 junket tablets, 1 sliced banana, 1 sliced orange.

Heat milk until lukewarm. Add vanilla, sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Crush junket tablets, dissolve in 1 tablespoon cold water and stir into milk. Put in mold and let stand in warm place until set, then chill. Garnish with banana and orange slices. Serves six.

Banana-Marshmallow Dessert.
One-half pound marshmallows, 1-2 cup orange juice, 1 cup cream, whipped; 3 bananas, sliced; 1-2 cup nuts.

Cut marshmallows into eighths with wet scissors, add orange juice and let stand 10 minutes. Fold whipped cream into marshmallows, add sliced bananas and nuts. Put in mold and let stand in refrigerator 2 hours to set. Turn out on platter and garnish with sliced bananas and oranges. Serves six.

ECONOMIES PROMISED BY SECRETARY WILSON

Secretary of State John B. Wilson's endorsement of a constitutional amendment changing the terms of the governor and other state house officials and plans of a steering committee for the opening speech of Eugene Talmadge at McRae on July 4 were the principal political developments in Atlanta Thursday. Most of the gubernatorial candidates were engaged in making personal surveys of the situation.

Talmadge managers announced that Judge Eschel Graham, of Telfair superior court, had been named chairman of the committee to arrange for the agricultural commissioner's opening drive for the nomination to succeed Governor Russell. Talmadge announced that he would open temporary headquarters adjacent to the state capitol next week.

Citing a personnel cut of 65 per cent since he went into office, Secretary of State Wilson pledged himself to further economies consistent with "prompt and efficient service to the people." He said:

Several days ago I qualified with the secretary of the state democratic executive committee as a candidate to succeed myself as secretary of state. I have been in office less than 12 months and if a proposed constitutional amendment is ratified by the people in November my present term will expire in January, 1933. In this event my term of office will be only 18 months. Although this proposed amendment cuts off six months of my present term to which I was elected by the people, I favor the amendment because I believe it to be in the interest of good government and that the term should run concurrent with that of the governor. I expressed this conclusion to a number of members of the legislature during its session last summer.

Since I came into office it has been my constant purpose to administer the affairs of this department in an economical and efficient manner. Under recent acts of the general assembly a number of changes have been made affecting the duties of the secretary of state and as a result some new duties have been placed upon him. In order to comply with the provisions of the new law and to carry out my pledges to the people to operate this department with the least expense possible, I have reduced the number of employees about 65 per cent. I shall continue to carry out this pledge and to effect further economies from time to time consistent with prompt, efficient service to the people.

During the past few days I have received expressions from hundreds of Georgians throughout the state, in person or by mail, approving my record of service as secretary of state and pledging me their support for re-election. I deeply appreciate these expressions of confidence in me as a public servant.

The people of Georgia have been exceedingly kind to me, for which I am profoundly grateful. Engraved upon the great seal of the state, which is in my custody, is our motto: "Wisdom, justice, moderation." I have tried to follow this high standard in the past and shall continue to do so in the future with constant devotion to public duty and fidelity to the people.

Don't let them count you out!

Not today!

"I was discouraged and fired easily until I built up my red blood cells—and that was a big day in my life for me"

"It certainly makes one feel good to have one's red-blood-cells up to full strength... it's like having an extra supply of energy... you feel fresh and young... and now that I have learned how to do this, I expect to really enjoy life for a long, long time."

Of course, everyone wants to be well and strong and this you cannot be if the red-cells of your blood are much below normal. Do you know that these cells must be replenished every 30 days—they represent about 40% of the blood—and when deficiency of diet or some sickness has diminished them, quick, reliable help is needed.

If you require a tonic you should by all means try S.S.S. It is a tonic with rare qualities... palatable and easily assimilated because it is liquid. It stimulates the secretions of the stomach... aids digestion... restores the appetite... regenerates hemoglobin—builds up the red-blood-cells—and gives greater resistance against infection and disease.

S.S.S. helpfulness is illustrated by the fact that nearly one-half of those who have taken it for the first time do so upon the recommendation of some friend who has been benefited.

Why not start on the road to better health and more happiness today? Get S.S.S. from any drug store. In two sizes: regular and double—the latter is more economical and is sufficient for a two weeks treatment.

they lapsed into unconsciousness. Hamilton said he was standing behind the cashier's counter at Hartman's cafe when the bandit—obviously nervous and somewhat disheveled—entered and ordered a cigar, tendering a dollar bill in payment.

While he was making change, Hamilton said, he heard the customer order him to throw up his hands and he turned, under the impression that the youth was joking. When he saw a .38 caliber revolver in the man's hand, Hamilton added, he still was unimpressed with the seriousness of the moment, and warned the customer to "put up that gun," informing him that a policeman was on the street near by and would probably see him and arrest him. As she spoke, the manager related, the customer snatched a $5 bill from the cash register and turned to flee.

Seeing that the man meant robbery, Hamilton said he leaped over the counter and for a brief moment tried to grapple with the fleeing gunman. At that juncture Moon, on the outside, started to enter the cafe, just as Hamilton cried to him to stop the bandit. Moon said he also thought at first that the whole situation was a joke, but that after Hamilton lost his grasp on the fleeing man, the latter turned and fired point blank, the bullet striking Hamilton in the abdomen. Moon said the man rushed by him, turned and fired, also shooting him in the abdomen. Both Hamilton and Moon collapsed in the doorway of the cafe.

The bandit fled, followed at a distance by Willie Brown, negro porter at the restaurant, who traced his flight to the Travelers hotel, 73 Cone street. The porter notified police, who raided the hotel, arrested young Harris and a couple they found in one of the rooms near the room in which Harris lived.

Mr. Smith, the attorney, who resides at the hotel and who is a friend of Harris, insisted to police that they had the wrong man and that the youth was not a criminal and would not attempt a holdup. The officers, however, took Harris to city jail, while the attorney began an independent investigation. After breakfast, Mr. Smith searched the small hotel and came to a vacant room, the window to which led out onto the roof of the Georgia Power Company building. A close scrutiny of the roof revealed that a youthful figure was hiding beneath a water tank. More than an hour had passed since the arrest of the "wrong man" and all excitement in the vicinity had quieted down.

Mr. Smith went down to the street entrance and summoned Patrolman E. M. Miller, on duty, and the officer went to the roof on the attorney's calling. After a search of the building, the Georgia Power Company, the bandit was in hiding on a higher level of the power company building than the portion of the roof upon which they had gained access, and Mr. Smith, leaving the officer behind, went up an iron ladder to the higher section.

Under Big Ventilator.
"I looked behind all the ventilators and other places and when I decided I was mistaken, when I noticed that under a big ventilator near the tank there was a person hiding. I could see the person's legs sticking out. I motioned silently for Officer Miller to come up the level on which I stood. Mr. Miller came to the tank and I told him in a whisper that I had found the bandit, and asked him to come up. When he reached the place where I was standing, I showed him where the bandit was and warned him not to have his gun ready, but asked him not to shoot the man unless it was necessary."

"We went over to the ventilator, and I called to the bandit to come out, that we had him covered. He came out and made no resistance whatever. The butt of a pistol was sticking out of his shirt bosom and I reached and got the pistol, unbreeched it and found two loaded cartridges in the chambers. I asked the man where the pistol was and he said they were in his pocket. I told him to give them to me and he did so.

"I asked him why he did the shooting down at the cafe. He said, 'I don't know what I did it,' and then he asked me if 'they were dead.' He said: 'I have been drinking for two days and I reckon I was crazy at the time I did it.'"

At the police station Hughes, according to detectives, made a full confession in which he said he was "pretty well drunk." In the alleged confession the youth also admitted that he was the bandit who on the night of June 4 held up the night clerk of the Central Y. M. C. A., on Luckie street, and snatched a strong box containing duplicate keys. He said he used the same pistol in that hold-up as was used in the cafe shooting.

Late Thursday afternoon reports from Grady hospital were that both Hamilton and Moon had undergone a change for the worse, and that doctors considered their conditions extremely grave.

Hamilton's wife was out of the city, visiting her brother, who is critically ill at Cuthbert, Ga.

hoped for dry weather as salvation from disease.

To help them in their plight moves were made in congress to give the veterans food and shelter. A resolution introduced by Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, would authorize the war department to furnish them army rations. A resolution introduced by Representative Keller, democrat, Illinois, would authorize their being furnished with army equipment.

Veterans Laugh.
Only good-natured laughter greeted the police when in the early morning hours they offered the veterans free truck rides from the city.

After several unsuccessful attempts to carry out their orders to quietly persuade some of the veterans to ride out on the trucks, precinct police captains gave up and sent the trucks away.

The veterans' uncrowned king of the day was the Rev. James R. Cox, Catholic priest of Pittsburgh, Pa., who some months ago led an unemployed army to the capital. Bareheaded in the blazing sun, 6,000 veterans at the main camp heard the priest extol their cause.

He arrived from Pittsburgh by air. He wore the uniform of an army chaplain, in which position he served in the World War.

The roof of a temporary shelter served as a platform for his address to the crowd which assembled at the blast of "assembly" a bugle. He told the veterans to "stay until the bonus is paid." They cheered him with fervor and prayed with him with reverence.

He attacked the government for its help to the "bankers and multi-millionaires," but urged them to be "real Americans." They shouted their unanimous assent to a motion that Cox be their spokesman on Capitol Hill.

Vice President Curtis promised a group which called on him that he would place their plea for bonus payment in the Congressional Record.

A penciled notice on the bulletin board of Camp Annapolis, Md., stated: "William B. Bonhead, tenth district read: 'To all Alabama veterans: 'I am in favor of the Patman bill and will vote for it on Monday.' The bonus issue will come before the house Monday."

points, so his reform suggestion cannot be regarded, but it can be noted that he made his remarks before the reichsrat, the branch of parliament which directly represents the states.

"The Weimar constitution," the minister said, "has been since its inception frequently punctured by legislation, and in the opinion of most observers, needs revision. In this task we shall earnestly address ourselves."

"But I want to emphasize this: The talk of revision of the constitution is a new element of confusion by opening up any question of the form of the state to which I have sworn allegiance before the president. On this the chamber and other members of the government are fully agreed."

"We have been labeled as reactionaries. Well, we shall have to grin and bear it."

Soviet Trial Bares Another Rail Disaster

PETROVSK, Russia, June 9.—(AP)—Another catastrophic wreck on a Soviet railroad in which an undetermined number of persons were reported killed on May 15 was revealed publicly for the first time today when 16 railroad employees went on trial charged with responsibility for the accident.

Two crowded passenger trains collided at the Zelonava station, between Kharkov and Dnieperpetrovsk. Scores of victims were crushed beyond recognition. The prosecutor charged the station master and other employees at Zelonava were drunk and mixed the signals.

The most recent serious wreck was in January, when 50 persons were killed in a collision between a passenger train and a freight near Moscow. Heavy prison sentences were imposed upon those responsible.

COUNTY SALARIES DUE FOR NEW CUT

be touched. The matter is to be worked out by a study of each department and each individual salary. It was predicted that some of the cuts to be made will be drastic.

During the morning a session of the board was held at which representatives from the relief agencies of the County, the Community Chest, the Emergency Relief committee and others whose 1932 appropriations recently were cut one-third were present.

All spoke of the necessity of the work for which the money is needed and members of the board stated that they were cognizant of conditions and would seek some method of balancing the budget in the future so that all or part of the charity money might be paid.

Among the 50 or more persons present were Frank Neely, A. Steve Nance, Ronald Ransom, T. K. Glenn, Mrs. J. R. Wakefield, Frank Beck, Norman Elias, L. D. Sharp and Roy LeCraw.

The meeting was featured by the plea of Commissioner Walter Hendrix that if in the future, appropriations are to be made to charity that some legal means be provided so that the money can be raised by taxation or otherwise. It was stated that such appropriations at present are illegal.

At the afternoon executive session when members of the board met in conference with a committee from the relief agencies the matter was discussed in detail. It was then that the matter of the county being forced to rebalance its budget in August came out. Commissioner Walter B. Stewart showed that the county's present balanced budget is based on the expectation of a 10 per cent reduction in revenue from taxes due to a lowered tax assessment. This will amount to $330,000, he said. However, it is now apparent that the county's revenue will fall off at least 3 per cent more, or an additional $165,000.

Etheridge pointed out that there seems to be but three avenues open to the board in dealing with the relief problem, cut the appropriations off entirely or cut salaries or raise taxes. He stated that the board does not want to cut off the charity, and that the matter will have to be worked out from the other two angles.

Hendrix said that he was in accord with the views of Etheridge in making cuts in the higher salary brackets and that the time had come when this "must be done not necessarily for charity, but to make the budget balance."

It was further said that the anticipated loss to be shown when the tax digest is completed in August would not be made up, entirely from cuts from the higher salary list, but may possibly call for a raise in taxes as well.

Representatives of the charity organizations meeting with the board in executive session declared that they were seeking money on which to operate their work for the month until some other plan could be worked out. Nance and Glenn offered to loan the county $30,000 for this purpose, but it was not accepted as the commissioners stated they had no way of repaying the loan at present.

Neely declared that if the commissioners will regulate the salary list so that it is "equalized," the public will not begrudge an extra tax to care for charity appropriations. He asserted that possibly the appropriations will have to be cut, salaries cut and the tax imposed also if a solution to the county financial problem is to be solved. Others who spoke included Frank Miller, Frank Beck, Samuel C. Johns, W. D. Hoffman and Edwin F. Johnson.

Hendrix added color to the discussion when he scored the exploitation of the charity work here and flayed the municipal kitchen at the auditorium as an attraction which brought many shiftless to Atlanta to be fed.

MY LIFE
is worth
$2.89
how about yours?

It leaps toward you—you hear the hot grinding of steel wheels—a bell frantically jangles. Tragic picture! Answer this question—would your tires grip the road—stop you in time?

HELLO EVERYBODY—
Floyd Gibbons speaking. I always took one particular pride in the old U. S. A. and it was based on the fond belief that Americans have the highest standard of living of any people in the world and also, we place the highest value on human life.

What a jolt that belief has just received! Could you imagine that human life is cheaper in the U. S. A. than in war-ridden China? Neither could I until the figures proved it to me.

Yes, sir, we killed more people right here in God's Country, in the same length of time, than were killed at Shanghai.

We wounded ten times as many.

We weren't fighting a war. No, sir. Our killing and wounding was done in automobile accidents.

Frightful!

I stopped at the Goodrich plant in Akron on my way home from Shanghai. They told me about a survey just made. It showed 57% of the cars in typical cities were operating on unsafe tires. Tires that invite disaster.

Where inches mean safety!

I began to understand why so many are killed and injured. Tires carry the weight of the car. They transmit the power. They do the braking. They do the steering. Fifty miles an hour on a few square inches of rubber—the sole link between you and the world—between you and safety!

The Torture Chamber!

I stood in a room where the temperature was 120 degrees—the torture chamber—and saw machines strike these tires with steel cleats—hundreds of times a minute. They were duplicating driving conditions on the desert—proving these tires won't burst when super-hot!

We went to a deserted stretch of road. Asphalt. Wet. There was a wedge-shaped corner. Sharper than a right-angle turn. One of their test drivers brought a car down to that turn at 42 miles an hour. Then took it—without brakes. We saw puffs of steam come out from under those Safety Silvertowns as they clutched that glazed, wet pavement. They literally burned the water off the street, leaving a clear, dry track behind them.

THEY DIDN'T SKID AN INCH!

With thousands injured in skidding accidents every year, this is more than news—it's a SENSATION.

Goodrich Safety Silvertown.

Then came the biggest surprise. I asked who could afford to buy Safety Silvertowns. "They don't cost one cent more than any standard tire," I was told. "For instance, the price is $7.05 for the Ford and Chevrolet size. Of course, tires can be bought even cheaper than that. Others make them—Goodrich makes them, too—for as little as $4.16. But they are NOT Safety Silvertowns."

I'll save my neck!

Let's figure it out—the difference between $7.05 and $4.16 is $2.89.

"Saving" $2.89 on a tire—that's what a lot of people are doing now.

And the toll of dead and injured mounts year after year!

No, thank you! With driving speeds what they are—with traffic what it is—with a few square inches of rubber the sole link with safety—I'll save $2.89 some other way!

I'm for this League, too!

Here's something: The Silvertown Safety League. It gives me driving rules to follow—for safety. It gives me an emblem for my car. I joined up! Any Goodrich dealer will enroll you, they tell me. No cost.

Goodrich states its position on prices

As you read tire advertisements emphasizing price, bear this fact in mind: Goodrich has provided its class—with greater values in each price class—Safety Silvertowns, Cavaliers and Commanders. Size for size—quality for quality—Goodrich dealers will never be undersold. Goodrich prices begin $3.20 each (in pairs) as low as . . . . .

Heavy Registration Reported For Athens 'Y' Annual Boys' Camp

ATLANTA, Ga., June 9.—Many Georgia boys now have their eyes turned toward the Athens Young Men's Christian Association. The registration already compares favorably with last year at this time. The eight weeks' camp opens June 30.

W. T. Forbes, general superintendent of the camp, points out that the "Y" camp rates have always been so low, compared with commercial camps, that parents are finding them in keeping this year with declining prices in general. James Champion Jr., of Albany, has already registered along with the following from other Georgia towns and cities: Athens, J. K. Davis Jr., Walter Hodgson Jr., Dan Magill Jr., Stokely Powell, Hutchins Hodgson, McCall Freeman, Tom Dozier, Alex Ashford, Billy Burson, Marion L. Talmadge, Uly S. Gunn, Edward McC. Hodgson, Dave Paddock Jr.

Publication of a camp newspaper, "Athens 'Y' Camp News," has been added to the activities this year. Tom Dozier will be editor, and the campers will assist in reporting. The paper will be sent to all parents. Mr. Dozier is a student in journalism in the University of Georgia, and one of the staff of the Athens Banner-Herald and one of the founders of the Athens Herald school "Thump" Tack Tribune.

The cultural course will continue this year, and informal lectures in the field will be given by experts in biology, astronomy, and other natural sciences. The boys have enjoyed these lectures and they, with the nature study course, have brought the campers into closer relationship with the world in which they live. They are taught to love nature and understand it as far as possible. A woodwork cabinet, handcraft arts course has been added with Logan Irvin, of Americus, in charge.

The horsemanship course is being conducted this year for the fourth time. The camp physical equipment includes 320 acres in a mountain valley 2,000 feet above sea level, in the heart of Georgia's mountain and lake region; a six-acre lake, 18 canoes, 3 11-paddle, 25-foot war canoes, 2 row and 3 outboard motor boats, athletic field for track events, baseball, touch football, indoor and outdoor basketball courts, volleyball, shuttlecock, badminton, archery, horse shoes. There is a large assembly hall bordering the big lake.

The swimming and boating events are always supervised by trained and responsible leaders, and a lifeguard is stationed in the watchtower at all hours. The camp staff this year includes Mr. Forbes, general superintendent, and 31 officers, of whom 21 are boys. BY STEWART BROWN.
GENEVA, June 9. — (UP) — A unanimous recommendation for maintenance of the gold standard was made tonight in a summary report of the League of Nations' gold delegation, which used a series of measures de-

The recommendations, which are expected to strongly affect the forthcoming Lausanne reparations conference, the British imperial conference at Ottawa and the proposed world economic conference, included:

- 1.—Upward revision of price levels.
- 2.—Expansion of credit.
- 3.—Settlement of the war debt and reparations problems.

4.—Removal of trade restrictions.
Special significance was attached to the delegation's proposal for inflationary measures, but it was emphasized that the delegation probably does not propose to depend upon monetary policy alone.

There also was much speculation in regard to the gold standard recommendation, as Great Britain, the Scandinavian countries, Japan and various European countries with the notable exception of France, have gone off the gold standard.

The delegation recommended that the present central bank reserve ratios of gold be reduced and that the gold exchange standard system should be revised. It was considered certain that, if the proposed world economic conference meets, it will seriously consider this recommendation.

In offering his resignation in the morning Brown stated that he has been promoted to assistant director of agricultural extension for the state

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remedy a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Unquestionable Testimony of Scores of Well-known Atlanta People Show Remarkable Benefits from Thor's Vitamin Compound

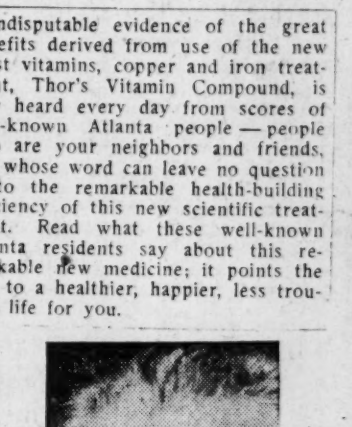

MRS. S. E. BOLTON.

"I am convinced that Thor's Vitamin Compound saved my life," declared Mrs. Sarah E. Bolton, wife of a well-known employee of the Board of Education. "I had three nervous breakdowns, one after the other, and I did not look like I had an ounce of red blood in my body. I could hardly eat for indigestion, or sleep for nervousness. My system seemed literally saturated with toxic poisons and my condition was so anemic that my hands were always cold and I had to spend half of my time in bed from sheer weakness."

"My husband spared no expense to get me well, but nothing seemed to reach my trouble, which makes me all the more grateful to this new yeast, copper, and iron treatment for the marvelous benefits I have received from it. My digestion is now splendid. I eat with a fine appetite, and sleep like a healthy child. I'm so much stronger I feel like a different woman. I cannot say too much for Thor's Vitamin Compound."

Captain Sam A. Rudder, for many years a popular passenger conductor on the L. & N. railroad between Atlanta and Knoxville, who resides at 637 Cherokee avenue, says:

"Nearly all railroad men have stomach trouble from indigestion and constipation, and I wish I could tell every one of them about Thor's Vitamin Compound. Within a week my troubles had disappeared. I enjoy

"Within two weeks Thor's Vitamin Compound drove the pains out of my shoulders and back, put my digestion and nerves in splendid condition, and I feel well, strong and energetic, wish I could tell every sufferer what this wonderful new treatment will do for them."

Miss Spencer McGaughey Weds Charles Clarke at Home Ceremony

A marriage marked by beauty and dignity and one of cordial interest to hosts of friends was that of Miss Spencer McGaughey, of Decatur, to Charles De Saussure Clarke, of Atlanta, which was solemnized Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Fairfield, 2010 Ponce de Leon avenue, in Atlanta. Dr. D. P. McGaughey, of the Decatur Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives and close friends.

At one end of the spacious living room the improvised altar was erected, and was flanked with palms and ferns, interspersed with candelabra holding burning white tapers. A plume of Easter lilies formed the central decoration. J. Gordon Moore, organist at the Central Presbyterian church, rendered a musical program. Ben Hutchinson sang "I Love You Truly" and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling."

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruthmary McGaughey, as maid of honor, and Miss Elizabeth Moss, bridesmaid. Miss McGaughey's gown was of blue point d'esprit. A tight-fitting bodice with deep bertha edged with tiny ruffles formed an attractive trimming. Blue pumps to match and a sash of soft blue and pink taffeta, with an arm bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and larkspur completed the toilet. Miss Moss was gowned in pink point d'esprit with soft pink and blue taffeta sash and was fashioned like the maid of honor. Her bouquet was of the same lovely flowers in the pastel shades. A group of lovely young girls, including Misses Nell Moss, Marion Mobley, Marjory Armstrong, Barbara McGaughey, Emily Mobley and Martha Zell formed an aisle carrying white ribbons, through which the bride party entered. They wore dainty frocks of pale green and yellow silk net gowns with sashes of the two colors.

The beautiful bride entered with her father, A. D. McGaughey, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, his brother, Caleb Clarke. Lustrous ivory-tinted satin fashioned the bride's exquisite gown, a yoke and long tight-fitting sleeves of Alençon lace featuring the only trimming. From the waistline the gown was modeled to the figure in most becoming lines, and gradually widened into full flares that extended into a long train enveloping the bride's slender figure was a filmy tulle veil, caught to the hair in becoming arrangement by a cap of real lace, held in place by clusters of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of Joe Anna Hill roses, white sweet peas and valley lilies.

Following the wedding Mr. Clarke and his bride left for a western wedding trip and upon their return will make their home in Atlanta. Mrs. Clarke was for traveling a navy blue ensemble georgette, with accessories in matching tones.

A Famous Laxative in 2 Forms

Thedford's Black-Draught is now sold by druggists in 2 forms—"old reliable" Powder in the 25-cent box of 25 or more doses—new, tasty Syrup in the 25-cent "traveler's size" bottle, and the 50-cent household bottle.

Many of the thousands who have been "brought up" on Black-Draught, to whom the spicy Powder in the yellow box is an old friend they'll never give up, won't consider trying anything else—not even Black-Draught Syrup, which contains exactly the same active ingredients as the Powder. But some folks like a syrup laxative; children especially prefer it. They can now get the old, reliable Black-Draught effectiveness in syrup form.

Whichever you use—a matter of taste—you can be sure it will bring you the same quick, easy relief from constipation that Thedford's Black-Draught has brought to millions since 1840.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: Do you think that if a boy really cared for a girl he would leave her home town unless he was absolutely compelled to do so? This boy is much better situated in his new position and likes his work better than he did before moving. But he didn't have to go. What do you think? BABS.

ANSWER:

If a boy had any ambition and any drive he wouldn't allow his affection for a girl to keep him from moving on to a better job, even if it did entail temporary separation from her. The fact of his moving doesn't necessarily prove that he does or does not love you. It indicates that he is serious about his work and that he won't allow sentimental considerations to interfere with it. If he does love you that characteristic will stand you in good stead some day and if he doesn't love you the separation will be good for you both. In any case you won't help matters by reproaching him for going, nor will you make him love you by trying to demonstrate to him that his move indicates that he doesn't love you. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

I am 17 and in love with a married man that lives with his wife. He dates me twice a week. He says that he will divorce his wife and marry me. The fact that he is married only makes my love stronger. What is the best plan for me to follow?

ANSWER:

One of two plans, depending upon what you want to get out of this love affair. If you want to go on indefinitely as things are, dating a married man and shutting out any possibility of any other beaux, go ahead for by all the laws of nature you can go on indefinitely this way. But the divorce will never be got and you will never be mar-

JUST NUTS

Sudden Love

By ELIZABETH SANXAY HOLDING

SYNOPSIS: Esmee Sully spends her formative young life between the office, where she is an efficient typist, and a dismal home. The widowed Mrs. Sully loves her children blindly, but doesn't know how to direct their spiritual or physical needs. Low, a year older than Esmee, is a misfit in his company. Cynthia, the oldest, has been deserted by her husband, Jimmy Considine, a crook lawyer, forces Low, whom he has in his power, to introduce his sister, Esmee, to a life of luxury and change, is fascinated by Jimmy's grand manner, but finds him an unsuitable lover. Then she meets Michael Marriot, a beautiful young playwright. It's love at first sight. She feels his need of her is real. Esmee's home one evening, Esmee finds Michael waiting for her. He'd been drinking heavily. Esmee takes him home in a cab, but finds he has no key and can't get in. In desperation she takes him to a hotel and registers at his wife, Claire Conley, Michael's sister, Jella Esmee that Michael is engaged. But when Michael calls, Esmee goes to see him. He tells her his engagement is broken and begs her to marry him. Esmee tries unsuccessfully to break with Jimmy, who accuses her of double-crossing him and threatens to sue her for the money she owes him. Esmee goes out to the country with him Sunday and he promises freedom for Low if she will spend the week-end with him. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XXIII. "Jimmy," she said with a sob, "I'm sorry—" "Sorry for what?" "Sorry that I changed. I didn't know I was going to. But a thing like that—caring like that—just happens. You can't help it. You can't do anything about it. Perhaps some day, if you meet a girl—" "You're my girl," Jimmy said. "And don't you forget it! And how do you know that the way you feel about that bird isn't the way I feel about you?" "No, it isn't! Because I want him to be happy, and you don't even care if I'm happy—" "You don't know what'll make you happy," he said disdainfully. "Just see what I'll do for you. You'll be high hat. Well, maybe you're wrong. Maybe it's me, after all. First I met you, I got that idea. I was young and I—somehow belonged together—" "I tell you, I never thought of getting married before. I always used to say I'd never be that much of a fool. But I was ready to marry you. I'd have been good to you, too. I thought you were straight—" Esmee answered, "Only that I'm sorry, Jimmy. I just didn't know—that would ever happen—" "If there were some way I could make him go away," she thought. But there was no way. She dared not even turn her head to look at Jimmy. Jimmy turned her car into a driveway and stopped before a long, rambling white house which bore the sign: "Gallant's Hotel." He got out, leaving her to follow, and, as soon as he had set foot on the veranda steps, the door opened and a stout, black-skinned Italian hurried out to him. "How you boss, hey?" he said, with deference. "What I can do for you, hey? You want I shake them up some fine little cocktails, hey? Maybe you want a nice little private room for you and this lady?" "No," said Jimmy. "We'll go out on the veranda. That end table." "You take nice little private room fifteen, twenty minutes—" "Want that end table," said Jimmy. "Boss, what you think I can do, hey? I got people there, couple o' fall guys—lots of money—two girls. They eat their lunch now, boss. They be gone fifteen, twenty minutes—" "Kick 'em out," said Jimmy briefly, and with a sigh the Italian vanished. Jimmy turned to see that Esmee was following, then he led the way through a long room and out on to a classed veranda, where where tables were set. At the end farthest from the entrance the Italian was handing elegantly over the chair of a man who sat there with three companions. He was evidently having plenty of trouble to make them move. But the unfortunate man, turning, caught a cold, steady glance from Jimmy, and with obvious reluctance returned to the struggle. But now they would all do nothing but laugh at him. "Frank!" called Jimmy, and Frank came. "You get that bunch out," said Jimmy. "And you do it quick." Frank went off then, and returned with two boys, the sight of whom made Esmee's heart sink. For they were young, like her poor Low, and their youth was pitiful and horrible.

ried. If you want a clean and decent love affair with an unmarried man with whom you can some day expect marriage, then you had better cut out the dates with the married man at once, for you will never have any opportunity to make acquaintance with other men so long as this clandestine affair is in progress.

The fact that the man is married may make your love stronger but that little fact has quite a contrary effect on the man in question. It makes him more designing, more secretive in his conduct, more deceitful about everything, including his relation to his wife; but it does not make him more loving or more honorable toward you. If he loved you, a mere child as you are, he wouldn't embroil you in a situation that might spell disaster for your future life. If he had any honorable intention toward you he wouldn't be making dates with you on the sly, if he had any loyalty or self-respect, he wouldn't make sport of his wife whom he lives with, and whom he probably loves after the poor fashion of which he is capable.

Not a word of this will you believe. How can a stranger shake your faith in the love of a married man that dates you twice a week and promises to divorce his wife to marry you? It can hardly be done. But just to test this love in which you believe, suppose you tell this man that you cannot see him again until he is divorced and in position to speak of marriage. But remember this: when you do tell him this, be prepared for a final goodbye, for you, poor child, will never see him again.

of the revolutionary junta was given impetus when it was announced that employees and laborers would be permitted to designate members of the commission controlling prices. Governors and mayors of all provinces were instructed by the ministry of colonies not to proceed with dispossession of colonists without advising the central government even though the courts have already approved such actions.

Dr. Juan Esteban Montero, deposed as president of the republic by President Davila, military strategy of last Saturday, unsuccessfully attempted to leave Chile by airplane. He boarded a commercial tri-motor airplane with his wife and two children this morning but the machine was forced to abandon a flight to Mendoza, Argentina, because of unfavorable weather in the Andes. Dr. Montero and his family re-entered the Argentine embassy where they had remained since the revolt.

U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT RESERVES ITS COMMENT
WASHINGTON, June 9. (UP)—The state department today declined comment on the reported order authorizing appropriation of all foreign currency accounts in Chile by the new socialist government pending official action by the United States Ambassador William E. Culbertson.

Officials said they had not yet been informed by Culbertson that the decree had been issued.

Earlier today Ecuador Secretary of State William R. Castle responding to press inquiries indicated appropriation of foreign deposits in Chilean banks might be the logical subject of a test by the United States government.

Castle suggested such action by Chile would not be compatible with fulfillment of obligations, obligations but said the state department would await developments before determining a course asked whether compromise exchange of international currency for local currency in Chile would be in line with the comparatively recent actions of Germany and Mexico.

He said he did not think that the United States had protested in those cases and he agreed the United States government would be more concerned in the manner in which the move was carried out than on the move itself.

OWEN CONCEDES WILCOX VICTORY

Daughter of Bryan Says She Will Resign Seat December 1.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 9. (AP)—Mark Wilcox, who advocates the quickest possible repeal of the 18th amendment, has eliminated from congress Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, the late crusading dry.

With Wilcox's margin over Mrs. Owen in 283 of the fourth district's 419 precincts, 53,475 to 42,373, Mrs. Owen late today conceded the democratic nomination to her opponent and said she would resign December 1 as she did not believe in "lame duck" office holding.

After Wilcox came out on his repeal platform, Mrs. Owen offered a referendum plank to the district and although she had voted recently against submitting the dry question to referendum said she would vote for it if it came up again in congress.

Representative Herbert J. Drane, who has voted dry but promised referendum, led the ticket in the first congressional district with 26,550 votes to 20,638 for J. Hardin Peterson, and 10,034 for Sumter L. Lowry. The vote was tabulated from 330 of the 373 precincts and showed Drane must enter the second primary in the third district, probably with Millard Caldwell, a referendum advocate. With only 36 precincts missing, Drane had 15,526 votes compared with the 14,880 for Caldwell and 9,882 for R. G. Patterson, third man, and also Representative Herbert J. Drane.

Great state interest was manifested in the five-way contest for congressman-at-large. Mayor John T. Alsop Jr., of Jacksonville, referendum advocate, was leading the ticket with 32,350 votes from 1,010 precincts and was hotly pursued by W. J. Sears, former congressman from the fourth district, who had 31,712. Sears favors a referendum.

The standing in the governor's race with only 36 precincts missing was: John W. Martin, 62,217; Dave Sholtz, 54,829; Carey A. Hardee, 49,052.
